★★★★★, 93/100

This is intensely fragrant on the nose showing kiwi fruit, rockmelon, feijoa and lime zest characters. The palate is equally attractive, delivering plenty of vibrant fruit flavours and juicy mouthfeel, brilliantly supported by bright acidity. The wine is lively and immediate, and offers terrific drinking.

Raymond Chan Wine Reviews

Dry to taste and medium-bodied, the palate is very brisk and zesty with racy acidity highlighting the flavours of gooseberries, nettles and cut grass, with white floral lift. Some passionfruit and fresh herb detail adds interest.

This is a crisp and racy, tightly bound Sauvignon Blanc with cool-spectrum gooseberry, nettle and herb flavours and a thirst-quenching palate. Serve with shellfish and seafood, and salads and vegetables over the next 2 years.
